[WWW.CHRIS CRAFTSTINGERS.COM](http://WWW.CHRIS CRAFTSTINGERS.COM) Newsletter, August 2011

Welcome to the August, 2011 newsletter!

Can you believe it's already August? July marked the one year anniversary of the chriscraftstingers.com website! There are now close to 375 Stingers documented in the registry.

I continue to make modifications to the website. In July, I added a new page to the website titled "Maps". Clicking on this page will display a map with the location of Stingers in the registry marked on it. I thought it might be interesting to see just where the Stingers ended up. The location of a boat is not precise – at best it shows the city the boat is located in and at worst it just shows state or country.

The History page has been updated with information from the book Drug Busters, by Henry Rasmussen. This book documents technology used by various US government agencies in the 1980s for drug interdiction purposes. This book has information and pictures on Stinger 390Xs used by the US customs agency. Take a look at the History page to find out more.

I've added a new item to the Parts page I'm most proud of: an official T-shirt for the website. On the front is a stylized picture of a 390X, as shown at the top of this newsletter, and on the back is displayed the website address. If interested, there are pictures on the

As I documented Stingers in the registry, I began to wonder just how many Stingers were built, where they were built, and which years were the most popular. I worked with the data and found some interesting information about the Stingers. I have displayed some of this information on the graph to the left. The graph shows the number and model of each type of Stinger in the registry. Note that the number of Stingers only represents Stingers documented in the registry – not the number of Stingers built by Chris-Craft. But the numbers do show the relative distribution of Stingers in the registry. I believe this is representative of the distribution of Stingers actually built.

Parts page!

As always, if you have any information on a Stinger, or are looking to buy a boat or parts, please feel free to contact me at ccstinger@gmail.com. Han.

The Most Popular Stinger

Last month, I concluded a series of articles that focused on just what the hull number can tell you about your Stinger. This month, I'm starting a series of articles on what has been learned from the Stingers documented in the registry.

What the graph shows is that the Stinger 260 model was the most popular model, followed by the 312 and 390. Specifically, 30% of the Stingers in the registry are 260s, 20% are 312s, and 10% are 390s.

These numbers are interesting, but I was curious as to why the 260s were the most popular models. My first thought was that the 260s were produced every year during the full run of Stingers, that is, from 1982 – 1989. But that can't be the only reason, as the 312s and 390s were (for the most part) built every year as well.

So what other reasons would make the 260s more popular? Perhaps it had to do with price. The Chris-Craft price schedule for July 1, 1984 lists the prices for the 260s starting at $40,195 and going to $48,995. The same price schedule lists the 312s starting at $59,995 and topping out at $130,595 for a 312 Competition model. And what about the top of the line 390s? – they started at $93,695 with a top price of $152,695.

Just to give you an idea of how much money this was, I calculated what the boats' factory price would be today, adjusting for inflation. In 2011 dollars, the 260s would have cost $83,239 - $101,463, the 312s would have cost $124,243 - $270,448 and the 390s would have cost $194,032 - $316,215. Yikes!

But perhaps the 260s were more popular because they were easier to transport and more versatile? The 260s weigh about 6,000 lbs and are 26' in length – quite large to trailer around even today. The 390s weigh about 10,000 lbs and are 39' feet in length – quite the handful. Such a boat requires a stout tow vehicle.

My guess is that the 260s were popular for all of these reasons. The 260s offered a good performing, good looking boat at a reasonable price, especially for a new boat owner. They allowed the buyer to live out their “Miami Vice” fantasy without the responsibility of the larger Stingers.

If the 260s were the most popular model, what were the least popular? The answer: the 334s and 385s (or, at least, they were the least bought models). The most likely reason these appear to be the least popular is that they were only built in late 1988 – 1989. This was after Murray Chris-Craft had been sold to OMC.

In next month's newsletter, I will delve deeper into the numbers to show just how many Stingers were built by year.

This here is a 1984 Chris Craft Stinger 260 with a 2008 aluminum double axle trailer. Has twin smallblock chevy 350 engines with eldelbrock alum. intake and holley carbs. Alpha I drives. Has thru hull exhaust with steel manifolds and risers (less than 2yrs old). Drop down bolsters and cuddy cabin below. The boat hasnt been ran or in water since summer of 2009. May need some tuning and/or updating of gimbal hoses and water pump propellers. A good solid hull boat and its just not in my budget to hold onto any longer so good luck bidding! Also have the the spoiler/wing that bolts across the engine hatch as well. Also have the fiberglass swim platform with no damages as well. Its just a different color from the previous paint from when I purchased it!

I have a 1988 Chris Craft Stinger 260 with twin 350 mercruisers in turnkey condition. Very dependable and economical boat to run. Overall the boat is in good condition, mechanically sound just needs some cosmetics. Boat has a great ride and a cuddy big enough for two or three. Most of the interior is new the tops of the bolsters show signs of age, it has your normal scratches and nicks that goes with a 24 yr old boat. Trailer is a 1999 Myco trailer which could use a little TLC, but functional. Boat was last used memorial weekend this year. Boating season is in full swing. Make an offer, need to sell asap. Call 856-297-1212 with any questions, need more pixs, or want to see the boat.

Model: 1986 260 SL
Location: Lake of the Ozarks, MO
Asking Price: $8,900

1986 Chris Craft Stinger 260, twin 350 magnums, alpha one outdrives, sits on a lift always, we don't use the boat anymore, new baby. Really it just needs cleaned up and it's ready to go. $100 deposit to water test, for serious buyers, the boat is winterized. $100 goes toward purchase price if bought, if not goes to rewinterize. The boat looks awesome on the water whether running or sitting still. Really hate to let it go because it's a hot rod, but the motors are stock so it runs everytime! I think 900-950 hours or so. 24 degree deadrise on the performance hull. Call, email, or text with questions. Come and look, make a cash offer! Lots of summer left to enjoy the boat, fall is a gorgeous time to boat!! I have a trailer for another boat, I can deliver the boat if not too far, negotiable. $8900.00.
